The Ohio Department of Transportation (ODOT) will incur costs of about $500 to produce memorial signs for this memorial highway and the village of Crooksville will incur minimal costs for installing them. Specifically, the bill designates the portion of State Route 93 between the intersections with Ceramic Way and West Main Street in the village of Crooksville within Perry County as the Crooksville Firefighters David Theisen and Stephen Carletti Memorial Highway.

If memorial signs are to be located within a municipality, ODOT produces the signs and may request reimbursement from the municipality for the cost. ODOT, however, does not currently seek this reimbursement. The signs are installed by municipal workers, though, resulting in minimal costs for the municipality where the memorial marker is to be located. Two markers are usually installed, one in each direction at each location. Once a set of signs is installed, there are typically no maintenance costs unless the signs are damaged. Signs usually need to be replaced every 12 to 15 years.
