The bill does not appear to have a direct fiscal effect on public schools or state institutions of higher education. The bill requires schools, state institutions of higher education, and private colleges to designate separate single-sex teams and sports for each sex. Interscholastic athletics at Ohio schools and institutions are generally single-sex. School districts, other public schools, and state institutions may need to update rules, regulations, and administrative policies to comply with the bill but this work can likely be accomplished with existing resources.
